

BUILDINGS OF MRS. JOHN CUNNINGHAM HAZEN'S SCHOOL, PELHAM MANOR.

coming into the treasury is devoted entirely to the therance of the cause.

The only formality required of candidates for membership is the filling out of a special application blank which may be obtained, together with a copy of the columbine leaflet (an illustrated pamphlet, giving full account of the association and its work), for three cents, from J. S. Pray, secretary of the Columbine Association, Box 2.774, Boston.

HAZEN COMMENCEMENT.

THE AWARDING OF PRIZES AND DISTRIBU-

TION OF TESTIMONIALS-AN ADDRESS

BY THE REV. CHARLES R. TREAT.

The school of Mrs. John Cunningham Hazen, at Pelham Manor, N. Y., held its commencement exer-cises yesterday, beginning at 19:39 o'clock. The following was the programme: Processional hymn; iullaby, W. Taubert; general remarks, Mrs. J. C. Hazen; report of primary and intermediate departments; chorus, 'The Maiden and the Butterfly,

D'Albert; report of academic and collegiate departments; chorus, "I Sing Because I Love to Sing,"

Pinsuti; general work and honor roll; chorus, "Sing On," Denza; award of diplomas, testimonials and prizes; National anthem; address by the Rev. Charles R. Treat, rector of St. Stephen's Church, New-York City, and chaptain of the Mary Washing-ton Colonial Charles.

ton Colonial Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution; school song, Pelham Manor Alma Mater: prayer, the Rev. J. H. Robinson; doxology; benediction, the Rev. A. F. Tenney; processional

The exercises took place in the large study hall of the school, which had been beautifully decorated for the occasion with a profusion of flowers, palms and green birch boughs. The commencement color

THE DAY'S GOSSIP.

The Onondaga County Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold its annual meeting at Tully to-day and Friday. One of the most important matters to be discussed will be a petition to the Drug-gists' Association requesting the members to "re-frain from using the soda fountains as a blind to sell intoxicating beverages."

The annual commencement exercises of the school of the Misses Ely took place yesterday morning, and ten young women received fiplomas. A commence-ment address was delivered on Dean Smith of Bar-nard College, and breakfast was served at 12 o'clock for the parents of the pupils.

The Musical Art Club, of Bridgeport, consisting of staty voices and conducted by Miss Marie S. Bissell.

of New-York, gave a concert at Hartford, Conn., last night.

TWENTY-SEVEN NURSES GRADUATED.

Twenty-seven nurses were graduated from Mount

Sinal Training School for Nurses, at Sixty-seventh-

st. and Lexington-ave., last night. The graduating exercises were held in the training school in the presence of the nurses and their friends. Isaac

Stern made the opening address to the nurses, and at the close of the exercises distributed the dipicmas. Addresses were also delivered by M. W.

Barton delivered the class address.

Platzek and Dr. Bernard Sachs. Miss Ada Everett

The following were the graduates: The Misses

Helen Merrill Patterson, Eliza Corby Clark, Mattie

Helen Merrill Patterson, Eliza Corby Clark, Mattie J. Farmer, Bessie Cohen, Bertha Dorothy Heine-man, Emmy Baecker, Jane Evans, Rosa Issertel, Anna Ready, Jennie Leona Gravitt, S. Minnie Tenny, Mattle J. Meredith, Ethel Virginia Thirtz, Minnie Grace Laub, Emily Francas Ireinad, Flor-ence Hortense Field, Isabelle Wight, F. Adelaide Osterhout, Elizabeth Whitely Peters, Amy Barton, Dorothy Elizabeth Smith, Ada Everett Barton, Ida Alburtha Hall, Julia Freedman, Ida B. Guirmann, Rebecca Hervey and Ida Ching Marsh.

The chapter regents of the Daughters of the American Revolution of Massachusetts held an all-

OUR NATIONAL FLOWER.

AN ASSOCIATION TRYING TO BRING ABOUT THE OFFICIAL ADOPTION OF THE COLUMBINE.

A MOVEMENT STARTED THAT HAS THE INDORSE-MENT OF THOUSANDS OF REPRESENTA-TIVES-AN INSPIRING TOPIC.

The Columbine Association, whose object is to bring about the official adoption of the columbine as the National flower of the United States, has just completed the first year of its work since its organization in Boston. The movement was started with the indorsement of many representative Scripture reading by the Rev. A. F. Tenney; chorus, Americans, including artists, writers, horticulturists and botanists in various parts of the country. and the association has already some thousands of members from nearly every State in the Union. New-York is among the highest in point of members upon the roll. As an inspiring topic in class work teachers are finding the columbine idea particularly valuable. Arrangements have been made in certain schools to have the consideration of Columbia's floral emblem form an important feature of exhibition exercises, and managers of fairs arrange for the sale of columbine leaflets, badges and various columbine noveities and for the reception of members into the association.

The most important work of the association was accomplished in connection with the National Flower Convention, held at Asheville, N. C., last October. This convention was composed of dele-October. This convention was composed of delegates appointed by the Governors of their respective States, at the request of Governor Elias Carr of North Carolina, and was convened for the purpose of choosing and recommending to Congress a flower to be adopted as the National floral emblem. The delegates and alternates chosen from Massachusetts were the president and the secretary of the Columbine Association and two of its councillors. The president of the association was unanimously elected to preside at the convention. As the result of its deliberations, the convention decided, in the first place, that any recommendation to Congress at that time would be premature, and that before such action could properly be taken on a matter of so great and far-reaching importance further opportunity should be given to the people at large to consider all aspects of the question. This decision was entirely in accord with the position of the pupil making the highest was the property of the pupil making the highest was the pupil making the highest was the property of the pupil making the highest was the october of the pupil making the highest was the property of the pupil making the highest was the property of the pupil making the highest was the property of the pupil making the highest was the property of the pupil making the highest was the property of the pupil making the highest was the property of the pupil making the highest was the property of the pupil making the highest was the property of the pupil making the highest was the property of the pupil making the highest was the property of the pupil making the highest was the property of the pupil making the highest was the property of the pupil making the highest was the property of the pupil making the highest was the property of the pupil large to consider all aspects of the question, his decision was entirely in accord with the positive of the property of the shoot has always been maintained by the lumbine Association, namely, that a National wer should be chosen by Congress only in reconse to a widespread popular demand. In the load place, in order to further profitable dission of the question, the convention passed animously a resolution setting forth the qualifications a flower should possess in order properly serve as an emblem of the United States, he qualifications demanded are, in substance, as lows: The plant should be native to and grow dover the greater part of our country. It should easy of cultivation in any garden. It should not a weed or in any way harmful or offensive to dith. It should bear what in the popular sense we called a flower, and not be merely a foliage int or one chiefly valued for its fruit. It should om on our National holidays and should lend itwo floral decoration by variety of color.

The honor prize to the pupil making the highest average in the school was furnished by Mrs. John Town's Autonal in the popular sense in the school was furnished by Mrs. John Town's Autonal was furnished by Mr This decision was entirely in accord with the position which has always been maintained by the Columbine Association, namely, that a National flower should be chosen by Congress only in recussion of the question, the convention passed unanimously a resolution setting forth the qualifications a flower should possess in order properly to serve as an emblem of the United States.

The qualifications demanded are, in substance, as follows: The plant should be native to and grow wild over the greater part of our country. It should be easy of cultivation in any garden. It should not be a weed or in any way harmful or offensive to health. It should bear what in the popular sense may be called a flower, and not be merely a foliage plant or one chiefly valued for its fruit. It should bloom on our National holidays and should lend itself well to floral decoration by variety of color and distinctiveness of form. The features acteristic of its form should combine such simplicity and definiteness than when used convention ally in decorative design the flower may be readily recognized independently of its color. It should be a flower which has never been used by any foreign people as their floral emblem, and it should not resemble such a flower in general form. Finally, it should, if possible, possess patriotic associations plainly connecting it with the best for which our country stands among the nations of the world.

Any one at all familiar with the flora of the United States will see at once that the columbine (aquilegia), or "wild honeysuckle," as it is sometimes called, is the only flower that can possibly meet all these conditions, all other candidates that have been suggested being plainly excluded. That such was the opinion of a large majority of the delegates at the convention was shown by the result of an informal ballot.

The column of the Column of the Column is been made associate professor of Spanish at Bryn Mark.

The president of the Columbine Association is Frederick Le Roy Sargent, of Cambridge, Mass., formerly teacher in the summer course in botany at Harvard University and instructor in botany at the University of Wisconsin. In a letter received here yesterday Mr. Sargent says.

the University of Wisconsin. In a letter received here yesterday Mr. Sargent says:

The meeting of this National Convention, composed of members officially chosen to consider the question of a fitting floral emblem for our country, was an event without parallel in the history of the world, and marks the most important step thus far made in the progress of the movement. It was soon recognized by the convention that the greatest need at present is not so much the suggestion of floral candidates for consideration—of which there has been already an over-supply—as a careful statement of the qualifications which a candidate should possess in order to be worthy of consideration at all. For years there has been no lack of sentimental vaporings, unresulated by any clear idea of what was necessary or desirable in a National flower, and such ill-advised utterances had naturally operated to repel the judicious and to bring the whole matter into disrepute among many serious-minded people. Henceforth, whenever the question of our National flower comes up for consideration among persons competent to discuss it, the resolution of the Asheville convention, setting forth essential qualifications, will undealtedly form the basis of the discussion. The qualifications demanded by this resolution will be found to combine all the features which the experition, setting forth essential qualifications will undealtedly form the basis of the discussion. The qualifications demanded by this resolution will be found to combine all the features which the experition, setting forth essential qualifications once be admitted as representing the best attainable in the factor of controls has shown to be desirable in the factor of controls has shown to be desirable in the factor of controls flower in the same time, would be possible in a floral emblem. The Columbine Association thus holds the key to the situation. The association is that the columbine should be our National flower movement, already so far advanced toward a happy conclusion, depends

CLIO'S GREAT FETE DAY.

MRS. ARNOLD SCHRAMM ENTERTAINS THE MEMBERS IN HER BEAUTIFUL HOME. THE KNOLL

The fête champêtre given to Clio by Mrs. Arnold Schramm, at her beautiful home, the Knoll, in West One-hundred-and-fifty-eighth-st., will long be remembered as one of the most charming outdoor

The day was perfect, and the scene of more than fifty women on the lawn in their gally colored costumes was picturesque in every detail. The great trees—oak, maple and poplar—cast grateful shad-ows, and the fountain in the miniature lake gave refreshing showers to the iris on its borders, while many flags attested the patriotism of the hostess.

The literary programme began at 11:30 a. m., and was under the efficient direction of Mrs. Henry C. Bailey, who was extremely felicitous in the pro-logue in introducing the purpose of the occasion, and also in her tribute to the greatness of the flag.

city and country.

The address of welcome by Mrs. Schramm w hearty and gracious, and before the day closed every woman was ready to exclaim "What an ideal hostess!"

"The Star Spangled Banner" was sung by the Cito Choral, and Mrs. Schramm followed with "An Invitation to the Country," by Bryant, the sentiment being in perfect accord with the hour and occasion. It seemed as though all the poets who had ever said a good word for the country or uttered a sweet thought about June were brought to memory by appropriate selections. Gems from Huga and Holland, Lowell and Miller, Browning, Heine and Shakespeare were read by Mrs. H. T. Pierce, Mrs. C. W. Elting, Mrs. J. H. Kennedy, Mrs. Lohn J. E. M. Cutler, Mrs. W. T. Calinway, Mrs. John J. Hopper, Mrs. Alfred Mills Judson, Mrs. Ferrand and Mrs. E. R. Ingram, Miss Augusta E. Smuller read an original story of "A Garden Party on Mount Olympus," clever in imagination, as showing how the gods and goddesses enjoyed themselves on similar occasions. Mrs. L. W. Redington's witty remarks, embodied in "Notes and Comments," caused genuine mirth, and an original poem by Miss Adelaide Smuller contrasted the pleasures of the Muses aide Smuller contrasted the pleasures of the Muses with the freedom and enjoyments of the modern woman, very much in favor of the latter.

A sumptuous luncheon was served on the lawn, the rich viands coming forth from a rustic, vineclad arbor. Even the maids were dressed in yellow and white, out of compilment to Clio's colors. Later tea was served in the Chinese pagoda, which was beautifully decorated. Fifty children from the Colored Orphan Asylum came marching down the street and stood gazing with admiration at the lawn party. Immediately Mrs. Schramm said if they would sit on the adjoining hillside and sing they should all have the cream, and this impromptu concert was greatly enjoyed.

should all have ice cream, and this imprompts concert was greatly enjoyed.

The latter part of the programme was devoted to music, and was of a most delightful sort. The artists were Mrs. J. H. McKiniey, Mrs. Charles R. Wright, Miss Emma Dennison, Miss Margaret
Crawford and Lewis W. Armstrong. By request
Mrs. Boughton read "The Unseen Guest."

The afternoon closed with a presentation by Mrs.
Schramm of beautiful souvenir bookmarks to everybody present. The broad white satin ribbons bore the picture of the muse Cilo, and the date of the fête stamped in blue.
Special guests present were Mrs. Mary Dame

Special guests present were Mrs. Mary Dame Hall, Mrs. A. M. Judson, Mrs. William G. Slade, Mrs. Lewis Armstrong, Dr. Annie Brown, Mrs. S. Bourne, Mrs. George Clark, Mrs. Conselvea, Mrs. H. V. La Forge, Mrs. Ralph Paraga, Mrs. E. J. Vandenhove, Mrs. H. Barker, Mrs. N. Waterbury, Mrs. E. Montanye and Mrs. Jane Pierce.

WHERE TO GO TO-DAY.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Association of the Peabody Home for Aged Women will be held this afternoon. There will be an address at 4 o'clock and tea at 5.

The Dames of the Revolution will be entertained this afternoon by Mrs. Townsend Van Pelt at Van Pelt Manor, Long Island.

The new museum of the Brooklyn Institute will he open to-day from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. for a recep-tion to members of the institute.

A political symposium will be given by the Woman's Republican Union League of Brooklyn at the Pouch Gallery this evening. At 10 o'clock there will be a musical, followed by a reception.

The annual meeting of the New-York City Woman Suffrage League will be held at No. 120 Lexington-ave., instead of at No. 4 Lexington-ave., as usual, this evening. Mrs. Lillie Devereux Blake will pre-side and explain the proposed new School law, which will, if enacted, disfranchise the women voters of the State. Colonel John Grigg Fay will give an ad-dress on "Women as Soldiers." All who are inter-ested in the cause are invited to be present.

women public school-teachers of Northern New-Jersey for the benefit of the Teachers' Retirement Fund, at the Tabernacle, York and Henderson sts. The following are some of the committee: Mrs. Susan C. Marvin, chairman; Miss Anna B. Thomas, Miss Hannah J. Shafer, Mrs. Annie E. Moore, Miss Jane McCausland, Miss Elizabeth A. Allen, Miss Edwine E. Haddenhorst, Miss Marie C. Contessa, Mrs. Fanny Shepard, Miss Nettle Ken-ton, Miss Jennie S. Currey, Miss Josephine S. Genung, Miss S. M. Stiles, Miss Fannie O, Crane, Miss Julia A. Minihan, Miss Imogene H. Wheeler, Miss Clarn Post, Miss Kate A. Speir, Miss Martha L. Gould, Miss Laura M. Reed, Mrs. Georgia B. Crater and Miss Edith O. Martin.

lege will be held this morning at 10:30 o'clock. Charles R. Skinner will make the address. There will be a business meeting of the Teachers' Col-lege Alumni Association in the afternoon.

The Kraus Alumnæ Kindergarten Association will give a reception to the Baroness Bertha von Bulow Wendhausen this afternoon, from 3 to 6 o'clock, at the Hotel San Remo. The Baroness will read a paper on kindergarten work, and Miss Mand Morgan will give several harp solos.

The programme for to-day's meeting of the Con gregational Home Missionary Society, at Spratoga, is as follows: At the morning session a paper by Secretary Washington Choate will be read, entitled "Fixed Factors in Home Missions." Addresses will be delivered by Superintendents A. K. Wray, Missouri; Dr. Harmon Bross, Nebraska; E. H. Ashmun, New-Mexico; the Rev. Dr. Nehemiah Boynton, Detroit, Mich.; the Rev. H. H. Kelsey, Hartford, Conn. In the afternoon will be addresses by Superintendents L. P. Broad, Kansas, W. H. Thrail, South Dakota; Dr. T. W. Jones, Pennsylvania; T. G. Grassie, North Wisconsin. These addresses will be followed by the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. In the evening there will be addresses by the Rev. Dr. A. H. Bradford, Montelair, N. J.; the Rev. Dr. Reuben Thomas, Brookline, Mass.

THE W. C. T. U.'S PROTEST.

The Delaware County Woman's Christian Temperance Union has just closed its thirteenth annual convention, at Stamford, N. Y. Miss Elizabeth W. Greenwood, World's and National Evangelistic superinten lent, was in attendance, and gave lectures and addresses to large audiences. Such was the enthusiasm she was urged to remain over Sunday, and union services were held morning and evening in the Presbyterian Church. The attend-ance was so large on Sunday evening that hundreds had to go away unable to obtain even stand-second visit there: "I've made up my mind that Stamford is the most beautiful village in all the charming interior of this great brood of moun-tains." Among the resolutions the convention unanimously passed the following:

tains. Among the resolutions the convention unanimously passed the following:

Resolved, As a Woman's Christian Temperance Union convention we express deep sorrow and enter a most solemn protest against the action of our Legislature and Governor in the passage and signature of an act to grant the village of Stamford special privilege in voting license or no license. We sook upon the bill as humiliating and arbitrary, as well, in view of the action taken at the last town meeting, in which the people gave an emphatic "Not" to the question of licensing the rum traffic. Such action we regard anarchistic in tendency, in that it destroys the lifeal form of government of and for the people delivering it into the hands of ill-designing politicians. Governor Black had the power in his hand to carry out the wishes of the people, yet makes a surrender of right, honor and good-will to men. We make this record—this signature is a dark blot on his character as a citizen and Chief Executive of this great Commonwealth. We include in this resolution of censure the representatives of the people and those individuals through whose agency this result has been secured.

THE TRUANT SCHOOL.

Miss Julia Byrene, of the Truant School, No. 215 East Twenty-first-st., enrolled seventeen new pupils yesterday morning, making a total of thirty-four bad boys. They range in age from nine to fifteen years, and represent nine of the grades of the public schools. They are divided into three classes grammar, higher and lower primary. Their work grammar, higher and lower primary. Their work is necessarily easy, many of the children not knowing how to write. The aim of all the teaching is to inculcate habits of order, neatness and regularity. Each hoy is taught to mind his own affairs and is compelled to behave well. Each act of disobedience causes the lad to forfeit a certain number of marks, and if this fear is not sufficient in itself dire and swift punishment overtakes the wrong-doer. For example, he may be sent to bed at 3:30 o'clock, and thus lose a pleasant evening.

ROBES FOR THE PROMENADE.

PRETTY FRENCH FASHIONS-ODD AND STRIKING CAPE-SCARFS-NEW BOD-ICES AND SKIRTS.

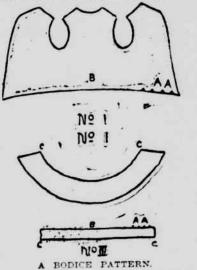

novel and charmingly pretty French fashion is the cape, or scarf, with long simulated ends which reach to the hem of the skirt, but which instead of hanging loose are a component part of the dress itself. This model is seen in an imported robe de promenade. Of black summer taffetas, a most useful dress, by the way, for a piece de resistance when travelling. The skirt is made with three groups of tucks, of three tucks each, the first commencing about fourteen inches from the waist, the next being placed half-way between waist and hem, and the third being at the bottom,

PROMENADE COSTUME OF TAFFETA LACE TRIMMED.

two inches in depth. The bodice is tight-fitting. with a short collet, cut in deep points on the shoulders and in front, and bordered by a deep plissée of black mousseline de soie, squared on the shoulders and across the front, where long plissee ends hang apparently loose to the hem of the skirt. In reality they are straight pleats sewed on to the dress in one unbroken sweep, and giving the appearance of long straight ends,

Charming effects are produced by means of the new detached applications of lace, which can be placed in any direction. A silver-gray mohair, which has great "chic," has a blouse waist fastened on the side with an accordion-pleated ruffle of white chiffon. The skirt is cut plain, the only trimming being sprays of white applique in renaissance point-a design of tulips with their leaves. One spray runs diagonally from the right shoulder down to the waist line on the left; there it is confined with the blouse by a draped belt, from under which it extends for a short distance over the left hip. Another still longer spray com-

A TIGHT-FITTING FRENCH PERCALE. being gathered into the belt at A A, and the skirt being attached at the points C C. The neck is cut slightly open, showing a shirt or chemisette. A new Parisian blouse cut in this way is of green and pink changeable silk. Each side of the open front is bordered with two rows of black velvet ribbon, and the skirt is trimmed in the same way. The sleeves are of the purest conventional cut, and the shoulders are covered with a large turnover collar, trimmed with rows upon rows of narrow butter-colored valenciennes, the tiny ruffes completely concealing the silk. The open front shows a chemisette of white mousseline de sole, with bands of butter-colored lace ruche.

One of the mousseline de sole surmounted by a butter-colored lace ruche.

One of the pretitest and most picturesque hats of the season, if it is arristically arranged, is the perfectly flat circle which comes in all colors, and which, tilted forward, is fitted to the head by means of a band of flowers at the back, the brim being bent in pleats to suit the face. A becoming hat of this kind is a "plaque" of green straw, the front curved like a scoop bonner, and the back pleated in three godets and turned straight up at the back centre of the top is a bunch of accordion-pleated black chiffon, in the middle of which is a rose with its buds and leaves standing straight up. For a shade hat othing could be prettler. new Parisian blouse cut in this way is of green and

IN BEHALF OF THE GRASSO FAMILY. In behalf of the Grasso family, Mrs. M. C. W. containing a black dress and a square box containing clothes have also been received. Mrs. Beal wishes it made known that the children are sadly in need of wearing apparel. Boys clothing to fit a boy of eight years and anything that will do for a little girl of five years and baby of two years will be welcome.

BARNARD COLLEGE GARDEN PARTY. The class of '97, of Barnard College, entertained their friends yesterday afternoon with a garden party on the grounds of Columbia University, Morningside Heights. The final examinations have closed, leaving the students in the usual state of exultation after the completion of the year's work. They will all assemble once more before separating for the summer, for the closing exercises which will be held on Saturday. June 5, at 11 a. m. This will be the last commencement to be held in the old building, and, in view of making the occasion impressive, the students will attend in caps and gowns, and the general tone of the exercises will probably be of more than usual solemnity. The graduating class is expected to attend in a body the baccalaureate services, which will be held in St. Thomas's Church on Sunday evening.

The college publication, which has for a long time been promised by the junior class, has appeared. The Mortar Board." as it is called, is as attractive as its name, both as to contents and to cover. The new editors are Miss Grace Goodale, editor-in-chief, Miss Gildersieeve and Miss Striker, associate editors, and Miss Kupfer and Miss Seligaberg, business editors. last commencement to be held in the old building,

WEDDINGS PAST AND TO COME

The wedding of Miss Frances E. Gilroy, second daughter of ex-Mayor and Mrs. Thomas F. Gilroy, to Edward A. Maher, jr., son of Edward A. Maher, who was at one time Mayor of Albany, took place at 12:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in All Saints' Roman Catholic Church, Madison-ave, and Onehundred-and-twenty-ninth-st. The church, which was beautifully decorated with flowers, was packed to the doors with friends of the young couple. There was no nuptial mass, but before the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. John J. Keogan, rector of the Church of St. Thomas the Apostle, assisted by the Rev. James W. Power, the rector of All Saints' Church, there was an elaborated the control of the Church, there was an elaborated the control of the control o rate musical programme by Ernesto Belli, organist of the Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel Miss Katherine Hilke, the soprano of St. Patrick's Cathedral, and Miss Katherine Hart, the contralto of the Jesuit Church of St. Francis Xavier, in West Sixteenth-st. The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of white satin, trimmed with point lace, and a bolero elaborately embroid-ered with pearls. A parure of orange blossoms held the veil of point applique in place. The bridal bouquet was of white roses, and besides this the bride carried a small white kid-bound prayer-book. Her maid of honor was Miss Isabelle Murray, Long Branch, and her oridesmaids were Miss Josephine Breslin, Miss Jane Maher and Miss Lulu sephine Bresiin, Miss Jane Maher and Miss Lulu Maher, sisters of the bridegroom; Miss Mae Hickey, of Brooklyn; Miss Mamie McCarthy and Miss Nannie Fitzgerald, of Troy. Each carried a parasol of lace and white silk, the handles tipped with gold and marked with the initials of each young woman and the date of the wedding, gifts from the bride. The little flower girls were the young sisters of the bride-Miss Dorothy Gilroy and Miss Madeleine Gilroy. The pages in middy suits of white were Masters John Maher and Murray Lalor. Mr. Maher's best man was James V. Geraty, and the ushers, who received gold sleevelinks, monogrammed and dated, were the bride's brother, Eugene C. Gilroy; Henry P. Silleck, fr., John Oisen, Edward Murphy, 2d, of Troy; Charles Hickey, of Brooklyn, and William B. Deiehunty, of Albany. The reception, which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gilroy. No. 7. West One-hundred-and-twenty-first-st., was attended by more than 've hundred guests to a commodate whom a wooden pavilion was creeted over the backyard. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh J. Grant, Senator and Mrs. Murphy, Judge and Mrs. P. Henry Dugro, ex-Police Justice Feitner, Dr. and Mrs. Louis Schultze, Mrs. Martin B. Brown, General and Mrs. Howard Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Carroll, Controller and Mrs. John H. V. Arnold, Miss Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Ambel P. Fitch, Surrogate and Mrs. John H. V. Arnold, Miss Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Kipp, Mr. and Mrs. Hopper, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Byrnes, Miss Brady, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Kipp, Mr. and Mrs. Hopper, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Byrnes, Miss Brady, Mr. and Mrs. Howard the Thomas Byrnes, Miss Brady, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony N. Brady, Miss Brady, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony N. Brady, Miss Brady, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony N. Brady, Miss Brady, Mr. and Mrs. Cantor, Mr. and Mrs. Maher will go to Far Rockaway for the summer. They will make their home pext winter in West One-hundred-andthirty-first-st. Maher, sisters of the bridegroom; Miss Mae Hickey,

The wedding of Miss Mary Ecclesine, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Ecclesine, jr. to Alexander Mercer Pell, son of the late Colonel Archibald Pell, was celebrated at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. No. 1.014 Lexington-ave. Invitations to the ceremony and reception were confined to the relatives of the two families and the personal friends of the bride and bridegroom. The Rev. John Tetreau, of the French Church of St. Jean Baptiste, offici-ated. The bride's gown was of white satin and the veil was of tulie. It was caught up with orange blossoms. The maid of honor was Miss Molli Kemble Lawrence. The flower girls were Miss Kemble Lawrence. The flower girls were Miss Annie Fargo Preston and the bride's sister, Miss Beatrice Grinnell Ecclesine. There were no ushers. Mr. Pell's best man was Matthew Morgan, Jr. Among the guests at the reception and ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Ecclesine, sr., grandparents of the bride; Mrs. Duncan Pell, grandmother of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Archie Pell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Clinton, Justice Paxson, of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania; Mr. and Mrs. Lesle-Pell Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy, Major and Mrs. R. L. Burnett, Joseph F. Ecclesine, Edward Ecclesine, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Hurst, Cosgood Pell, Edward Ecclesine, Mr. and Mrs. Scelesine, Stephen Pell, Joseph Jaspar Ecclesine and Samuel Ecclesine. Mr. and Mrs. Pell have arranged to pass the summer at the bridegroom's country place, Brookside, Oswego, N. Y.

Miss Frances Louise Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace P. Clark, of No. 125 West Ninety-fifth-st., was married to Dr. George Livingston Brodhead at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in All Angels' Church, West End-ave, and Eighty-first-st. Several hundred guests attended the ceremony, which was performed by the rector, the Rev. S. Delancey Townsend, and was followed by a wedding supper, served by Mazzetti, at the home of the bride's parmences on the skirt just behind the right hip, at the waist, and extends across the front diagonally to the hem. A new blouse, which is the rage just now in Paris, is made in one piece, and may be worn with or without a skirt. The accompanying diagram will show the cut, which is extremely simple, though the effect is very modish. The notches A A show the gathers, and No. 2 is half of the skirt. No. 3 is the straight belt, which is attached to the blouse at the points B B, the front White, Dr. Howard Palmer, of Utica; Dr. George Peck and Dr. Charles Elsberg. ents. The bride wore a gown of white satin, the

The marriage of Miss Marie Antoinette Forbes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seymour Forbes, of No. 350 St. Nicholas-ave., to Taibot Munroe St. John was solemnized at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in Christ Church, Western Boulevard and Seventy-first-st. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. George R. Van De Water, rector of St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal Church, Fifth-ave, and One-hundred-and-twenty-seventh-st. The bridal gown was of white corded silk, trimmed with chiffon and pearls, and the veil was of lace, affixed to the conflue with orange blossoms. Miss Margaret Wood, of Bridgeport, Conn., a cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor. The bridesmalds were Miss Henrietta Bessell, of Scranton, Penn.; Miss Grace Sheridan, of East Orange; Miss Ruth Richards and Miss Florence Eno. Mr. St. John's best man was the bride's brother, Guy Forbes. The ushers were the bridesroom's brother, Harry St. John; the bride's cousin, Ernest Milair; George Ring and Judson Mills. A reception, which was attended by about one hundred guests, was held afterward at the home of the bride's uncle, Frederick Wood Meeker, No. 311 West Seventy-first-st. The wedding of Miss Emma Louise Hannam.

daughter of Mrs. William Hannam, to Henry J. Bauer took place at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afterneon at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Katte, No. 112 West One-hundred-and-eighteenth-st. The marriage ceremony was performed by the rector of St. Andrew's Church, the Rev. Dr. George R. of St. Andrew's Church, the Rev. Dr. George R. Van De Water, and it was followed by a reception for relatives and intimate friends. William Hannam gave his sister away. She was attired in a gown of white satin, veiled with mousseline de sole, trimmed with Mechlin lace. The veil of tulle was fastened with orange blossoms. Miss Isabelle Hannam was her sister's maid of honor, and Miss Hannam was her sister's maid of honor, and Miss Hannam was her sister's maid of honor, and Miss Hannam was her sister's maid of honor, and Miss Hannam was her sister's maid of honor, and Miss Rapiorie Vedder was the little flower girl. Mr. Bauer's best man was his brother, George F. Bauer. The ushers were John D. Crouch and Dr. Charles Root.

At 5:30 o'clock last evening Miss Louise Helen Bergman, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sigmund Bergman, was married to Josef Pschorr, of Munich, Germany, at the home of her parents, St. Nicholas-ave, and One-hundred-and-forty-sixthst. The Rev. Dr. Halfman, of the Emanuel Lutheran Church, officiated at the ceremony. The bride, who received many handsome gifts, includ-ing a diamone star and crescent which fastened the tuile veil in place, was attended by her sister, Miss Dorothea Bergman, as maid of honor, and Miss Charlotte Schafer and Miss Adele Friedman Miss Charlotte Schafer and Miss Adele Friedman as bridesmaids. The flower girl was the bride's youngest sister, Miss Caroline Bergman. The bride-groom's best man was his brother, Dr. Robert Pschorr, of Berlin, Germany. The ushers were Charles W. Ohmels, Charles Fester, Dr. R. Loreck and George Wicks. Mr. and Mrs. Pschorr, who will make a tour of the West, will sail for their home in Munich about the middle of June.

The marriage of Miss Susan E. Bigotal to Oscar T. Connor took place at 7:30 o'clock last evening at the home of the bride's father, No. 41 West Ninetyseventh-st. The Rev. Dr. Edward Bradley, vicar of St. Agnes's Chapel, officiated. The bride, who is an only child, was attended by a maid of honor, a child—Miss Ruth Cumming. The best man was Barron Fredericks. A small reception followed the ceremony.

In the Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, Seventh-ave and One-hundred-and-twenty-ninth-st., at 8:30 o'clock last evening, Miss Ida Maud Stafford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harlow H. Stafford, of No. 225 West One-hundred-and-twenty-sixth-st., was No. 225 West One-hundred-and-twenty-sixth-st., was married to Robert Edwards by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. McChesney. Miss Bessie Stafford was her sixter's maid of honor, and Miss Grace Evans, Miss Mae Crowley, Miss Addie Godfrey and Miss Anna Ryer were the bridesmaids. Mr. Edwards's best man was Dudley Frost. The ushers were Edward Donnelly. Edwin Hopkins, Eugene K. Austin and Andrew Evans. The reception, a small one, followed at the home of the bride's parents.

the engagement of Miss Cornella Livingston Crosby, daughter of Mrs. Robert Ralston Crosby, of No. 118 East Twenty-fourth-st., to Alfred Duane Pell, only son of the late George W. Pell, who was known as collector of antique silver, rare china and porcelains. Mr. Pell, who also has a reputation as a col-lector, was graduated from Columbia College in 1887, and since that time has spent most of his life in dravelling, visiting all parts of the world in search of additions to the rare collection gathered by his father. Nearly two years ago Mr. Pell bought the mansion at the southeast corner of Fifth-ave, and Seventy-fourth-st., which was built by the late William Pickhardt. The house is one of the largest on upper Fifth-ave, and since Mr. Pell became its owner he has moved his vast collection of antiques from his father's old house at the southwest corner of Fifth-ave, and Thirty-ninth-st., which has been torn down, to his new home. Mr. Pell also owns the house No. 2 East Seventy-fourth-st, which he has connected with the house at the corner of the avenue. Some time ago it was reported that Mr. Pell would bequeath the house to the city for a museum. Miss Crosby, whose mother was Miss Jane Murray Livingston, is distantly related to Mr. Pell.

Charles H. Burckett, of the firm of Kirby Burckett, drug dealers, was married yesterday to Miss Mary Martin at the home of the bride at Deckertown, N. J. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. C. Lathrop. The bride is the daugh-ter of the late James F. Martin and a grand-daughter of the late ex-Assemblyman Levius Mar-tin. Mr. and Mrs. Burckett will make their home at Bloomfield, N. J.

Orange, N. J., June 2 (Special).—Miss Rena Symmes Seabury, daughter of George J. Seabury, of Liewellyn Park, was married this evening at Sunnyside, her home, to David Ely Green, jr. The house was elaborately decorated, and about a hundred guests were present at the ceremony. The M. Pullman, of Lynn, Mass., an old friend of the family. The best man was Dr. Henry C. Lovis, of New-York. The bride's attendants were all her school friends. They were: Maid of honor, Miss Eugenia R. Seabury, her sister; bridesmaids, Miss Nellie Durand Evans and Miss Anita Durand Evans, of Chattanooga, Tena; Miss Ethel C. Hately and Miss Margaret M. Hately, of Chicago; Miss Mary Campbell, of Mount Vernon, N.Y.; Miss Phoebe Reynolds, of East Orange; Miss Katherine McKim Garrison and Miss Helen Green, of Llewellyn Park. The ushers were William Gallenkamp, of Chicago; Stanley Ward, Clifford A. Gould, J. Harper Skillin, Edward Skillin and Phillip McKim Garrison, of the Oranges, Reginald Clark, of Worcester, Mass., and J. Percy Remington, of Philadelphia. The bride wore a charming gown of white satin, trimmed with valenciennes lace, and a diamond daisy, the gift of the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The reception was attended by about three hundred friends. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Green left here on their wedding tour. They will live at Beech Lodge, in Llewellyn Park, on their return. chool friends. They were: Maid of honor, Miss Baltimore, June 2 (Special).-Many people from Philadelphia and New-York were guests at the wedding in Grace Episcopal Church here yesterday of Miss Mary Washington Keyser, daughter of H. Irvine Keyser, to John Stewart, jr., son of C. Morton Stewart. The bridegroom is a governor of the Bachelors' Cotillon Club, and one of the most popular young men of Baltimore. Miss Nannie popular young men of Baltimore. Miss Nannie Brent was maid of honor, and the best man was the bridegroom's brother. Redmond C. Stewart. The ushers were Conyngham Stevens, of Philadelphia; William Washington, of Pittsburg; H. Irvine Keyser, ir., Plunkett Stewart, John Brogden, William F. Lehr, William S. Blackford and William Harrison. The bridesmaids were Miss Therese Keyser and Miss Marion McKeever, of New-York; Miss Sarah Williams, of Philadelphia; Mid: Eleanor Stewart, Miss Mathilde Keyser and Miss Milded Perine, of Baltimore, Following the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's father.

London, June 3 .- "The Times" to-day announces the marriage on Tuesday, at the Cathedral of St. George and St. Michael, Graham's Town, Cape Colony, of Captain Bushe, of the Queen's Bays, to Marguerite, daughter of Silas Burrows, of New

According to the same authority, Fran kinson of Pittsburg, was married at St. Martin's Church, Bedford, on Tuesday, to Edith, daughter of the Rev. F. W. Piercy, of the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Bedford, and yesterday (Wednes-day), at All Souls, Langham Place, Richard John Culten, of New-York, was married to Miss Mary Cooper, of Wargrave.

GREEN GOOSEBERRIES AND WHEN TO PICK THEM AND HOW TO COOK THEM.

The green gooseberry is much more highly esteemed in England than in this country, where it is frequently allowed to ripen on the bushes. It is then eaten with relish only by children and by the wild birds, who seem to enjoy its rather insipid flavor. The proper time to pick gooseberries for use is when they have attained full size, but are still green. They then possess that agreeable tart flavor that has made them a favorite fruit for james as well as for puddings and desserts of various

GOOSERERRY PUDDING

An English batter pudding, with gooseberries, is a triumph of cookery. Sift well a liberal cup of flour, to which a teaspoonful of baking powder has been added. Beat two eggs thoroughly, adding half a tenspoonful of salt, and pour in gradually a pint of milk. Put in a slice of bread which has been freed from crust, thoroughly dried in the oven and reduced to crumbs. Sift in the mixture of flour and tail" a pint of fine green gooseberries and add to the batter. Let the pudding boil for two hours in a covered tin mould that is set in boiling water. The mould should be well buttered and dredged thickly with sugar before the pudding is put in Leave considerable space in the mould for the pudding to rise. The kettle in which the mould is set should be covered, but the boiling water should reach only to half the depth of the mould. If there is more water, it may boil under the cover of the mould and ruin the pudding. A kettle with a firm, simple frame, in which a tin pudding mould may be thus held, partly immersed in water, while it s cooking, is the most convenient article. ordinary iron kettle the mould rests on the bottom and next the fire, or is merely isolated by a saucer to prevent burning. It is liable to tip, and it constantly "wobbles" about in a manner that often makes the pudding heavy. Properly made, and kept stendy while boiling, this batter pudding becomes featherlike in its lightness and delicacy. It must not stop boiling.

Serve it with a liquid butter and sugar sauce, severed, if you like, with sherry.

GOOSEBERRY ICE CREAM.

A novel ice cream, delicious to look upon and delicate in flavor, is made by the addition to the cream of the pulp of almost mature, but still tart and green, gooseberries.

Boil green gooseberries, strain out the seeds and Boil green gooselerries, strain out the seeds and skin through a fine sleve. Sweeten a pint of this pulp and chill it. Make a pint of custard by beating a cup of sugar with the yolks of three eggs, and pouring over them slowly, while some one else is beating them, a pint of boiling milk. Add to this custard a pint of rich cream. Let it become perfectly cold, and then add the cold gooseberry pulp. If the mixture is not a delicate green color, tint it with a little spinned green. Frezz it and serve it on tiny Celadon plates of the paiest green, with a little snowy whipped cream heaped beside it.

GOOSEBERRY FOOL

GOOSEBERRY FOOL Gooseberry fool is a time-honored dessert of Engand, which families of English descent still prepare from rules that have descended for many generations from mother to daughter. Ripe gooseberries are sometimes used for this purpose, but the best gooseberry fool is made of fruit which is still tart and not dead ripe. "Top and tail" enough of fine large berries to make a pint of pulp when strained. It will take nearly a quart Sweeten the pulp a little and set it when cold in the refrigerator, to become chilled. Whip a pint of the refrigerator, to become chilled. Whip a pint of rich cream to a stiff froth. Measure out a quart of the froth. Mix with it—using a whip to do so—two tablespoonfuls of gelatine which has been soaked for two hours in two tablespoonfuls of cold water. Then dissolve it in about two tablespoonfuls of holling water. Strain the dissolved gelatine into the whipped cream, mix and add the pint of gooseberry pulp, which must have been stewed to a thick preserve. Set the dish containing the cream and other ingredients into a pan of fine ice; and whip it with a wire whip until the whole is ice cold and the gelatine has set. Pile the frothy mass in little crystal glasses. If it is not an appetizing color, tint it with a little spinach green; it should be a pale, faint lettuce color. Heap each glass, if you wish, with a little snowy cream, to contrast with the color of the gooseherry fool.

AN AMERICAN SONG LECTURE.

The closing lecture of the course to which the The closing lecture of the course to which the Misses Lockwood, principals of the Collegiate School for Girls of Mount Vernon, annually invite their pupils and their friends was delivered on Wednesday in the lecture-room of the Presbyterian Church by Miss Fanny Granberry Levy. The lecture was entitled "Vocal Music of the United States," and Miss Levy began with a brief description of Indian music. The Puritan influence on song was noted dian music. The Furtian influence on song was noted and the sarliest known American hymn was sung. A poem was recited indicating the indignation of the country people at the introduction of the organ in houses of worship. The growth and development of song in New-England were described and illustrated by many vocal selections, and Massachusetts was declared to be the "banner" State because of its many able and influential composers. Negro music received considerable attention, and old slave songs were sung; also songs depicting slave life. The rise and proxiess of opera and oratorio were given, and peculiarly American entertainments, such as the "Old Folks' concerts" and minstrel shows were described. Sketches of famous American composers and singers were given, and songs by MacDowell, Chadwick, Buck, Foote, Bird, Nevin, Robyn, De Koven, Bmith, Glichrist, Van der Stucken, Hawley, Coombs, Whipple and Mrs. Beach were sung. Miss Lavy closed the lecture with Willard's "Vive l'America.

day meeting Thursday, May 27, at Parker's, more than forty chapters being represented, Mrs. Brown. of Springfield, State Regent, presided. The chapter regents organized, and these officers were appointed: Mrs. Samuel Elliott, of Boston, honorary vice-president; Miss Rebecca Warren Brown, of Boston, Mrs. Quincy and Mrs. Charles H. Masury, Boston, Mrs. Quincy and Mrs. Charles H. Masuty, of Danvers, and Mrs. Roger Wolcott, of Boston, honorary State Regents; Mrs. T. M. Brown, of Springfield, State Regent; Miss Helen M. Winslow, of Roxbury, vice-president; Mrs. George F. Fuller, of Springfield, secretary; Mrs. F. E. Doten, of Chicopee, assistant secretary; Miss Floretta Vining, of Hull, treasurer; Mrs. R. W. Parks, of Westfield, assistant treasurer, The Lowell chapter had a delightful day Friday, also, the especial guest being Mrs. Donald McLean, president of the New-York City chapter.

To the Editor of The Tribune. The Tribune, I always look with interest at "The Only Woman's Page." I am sure you are doing a good work in your Sunshine Society, and I wish you all success and prosperity therein. Yours sincerely.

No. 3,443 Locust-st., Philadelphia, June 1, 1897.